Pointing the Way Forward

West Texas Business Navigator sets a course for success for Abilene businesses

Local small businesses and entrepreneurs are accessing extra resources without the extra cost, thanks to a federal grant and the hard work of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce and several partner organizations in the community, making Abilene even more business friendly than usual.

The West Texas Business Navigator program launched in May 2021 with funding from a $1 million grant from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) designed to bring business support to underserved entrepreneurs. The program is part of the American Rescue Plan initiative which aims to provide assistance during economic recovery. The Abilene Chamber is one of 51 grantees nationwide, and one of only two organizations in Texas to receive the funding.

"Your Chamber is focused on accelerating Abilene's business friendliness and developing an inclusive business environment for all. Through the help of this grant and our community partners, we know that we're getting closer to reaching those goals," said Laura Moore, 2021-2022 Chamber chair.

The program focuses on aiding small businesses, especially female, veteran and minority owned businesses, offering training and seminars on topics such as how to start or expand a small business, financial literacy, marketing, government contracting and business leadership.

Since its inception in May 2021, the program has offered 10 outreach activities and 19 training sessions, with more than 198 people taking part.

West Texas Business Navigator is structured so that the Abilene Chamber functions as a hub with several other local organizations serving as spokes to provide training and outreach. Cisco Junior College offers self-paced online business classes at no cost to small business owners. The Abilene Black Chamber of Commerce provides a course on how to find and write grants. West Central Texas Council of Governments arranges marketing and financial reporting workshops in rural areas. HERU Community Development Corporation is providing training in financial literacy. Other partners include Abilene Industrial Foundation, America's Small Business Development Center at Texas Tech – Abilene,

City of Abilene, and Northwest Texas Procurement Technical Assistance Center.

The idea for Abilene's involvement in the program came about when HERU and Abilene's Black Chamber approached the Abilene Chamber about the grant opportunity. The Abilene Chamber brought in additional partners and put together a proposal, said Helen Usera, director of business retention and expansion. More than 700 entities applied and only 51 received the grant. The funding is used to pay for training, operations costs for outreach, and staff time for organization.

West Central Texas Council of Governments is a community economic development organization primarily focused on the rural counties around Abilene. Operations manager Terra New said this program is a perfect fit for their purpose as they expand the opportunities to smaller towns in the Big Country.

"It's brought an additional piece of small business training," she said. "We work through chambers and economic development corporations of these surrounding cities. Now we can bring training to them at no charge. That's a big win for rural communities, that they don't have to come to Abilene to take advantage of those resources."

Eighteen78

Courtney Hill is one of the recent beneficiaries of the navigator's offerings here in Abilene. In the summer of 2022 she was in the midst of a new expansion for her boutique, Eighteen78, from online only to a brick-and-mortar storefront downtown.

"I was completely on my own, and it was hard," Hill said. "I don't have a business degree, and I didn't have any business tools."

Enter the West Texas Navigator's Business Bootcamp, an all day training class with a variety of speakers and topics geared toward new businesses and entrepreneurs.

"The navigator program just opened up so many doors as far as things I wouldn't have known about," Hill said. "It would have taken years for me to learn what I learned through the program. I did not have or know all the resources available to me until that boot camp."

For example, Hill realized she needed to outsource some marketing functions such as social media and website management.

A few months into the opening of her boutique location at 401 Pine St., Hill said business is slowly picking up, and she looks forward to what the future holds.

Lone Star Tactical Services

Two veterans who love Abilene and chose to retire here teamed up when they saw a need in Abilene that they could fulfill.

Pete Leija and Glen Pugh were both seeking a security certification and had to travel to Dallas for the requisite training. "Why can't we have this course available in Abilene?" they wondered, and began to speculate on how to provide it.

"We talked about it, kicked it around and lo and behold went ahead and decided to put an entity together," Leija said. "We started with a rough idea and things began to solidify as we formed."

The result of those plans and musings is Lone Star Tactical Services, now offering that same security training that was missing here locally, as well as a number of other services and classes, including security services such as personal protection, bodyguards and armed courier services as well as self defense classes, firearms training and active assailant training for groups.

Pugh is a retired military weapons instructor who had been working as an independent contractor. Leija already owned his own hog trapping business, but after 30 years in the military, he said he's always had an entrepreneurial spirit of looking for new ways to make extra money.

Both men were already involved with the Abilene Chamber programs and heard about Business Navigator through the Chamber's email. Since then, they've attended nearly every possible training. Marketing is what Pugh said has been the most immediately useful.

"We're in our 50s, and we can do technology and use social media, but we can't build a website, so we hired someone to do that," Pugh said. "We're learning how Google works, how to use Google reviews, and how to use social media and stay on top of it. For me, the marketing class was the best training — how to market a new business, how to make social media posts, how often and how long they should be."

They also attended classes on finances and grants, including a training that had a panel of banking professionals sharing information on loans.

"I think Abilene, for the size city it is, is a very business entrepreneurial minded city," Leija said. "For our business, just getting started, we're very proud of the fact that we are two people, retired military, bringing a total of 63 years of military service to one business. This is what we've done all our lives, just on a different scale. I'm proud that we have a very professional and customer-friendly company in how we operate."

For both Leija and Pugh, Abilene is their home of choice, and they see the benefit of the navigator program for themselves as well as for their broader community.

"The Chamber and AIF providing this opportunity is phenomenal," Pugh said. "It's probably saved us thousands of dollars. Having this training and assistance available at no cost — how much better can it get? I hope the program can capture new people coming in with ideas. When people are successful, they stay here and pay taxes and keep their money local, and that helps everyone succeed."

ANSON

Founded in 1881, Anson is the county seat of Jones County and was named for Dr. Anson Jones, the architect of Texas Statehood and the last president of the Republic of Texas. Anson residents enjoy the pleasure and amenities of small-town life but are only 25 miles away from Abilene.

The city has a diversified recreational area with a city park featuring one of the largest swimming pools in the region, a nine-hole golf course, baseball fields, picnic facilities, a playground, a club house, and show barns for fairs and stock shows. At the center of town is the beautiful and historic Jones County Courthouse.

The atmosphere in the Anson Independent School District is warm and inviting. Students learn from caring professionals who can give students the extra attention they need thanks to their small class sizes.

The time and effort teachers put into educating children shows in the district's 100% graduation rate. The Anson Tigers are more than a school or a team; they represent a tight-knit, caring, nurturing school system and community. Students graduate and choose to raise their families in the same school district that they grew up in.

Annual events in Anson include the Chamber Awards Banquet, Lawrence Hall Golf Tournament, North Lake Fireworks Show, Party in the Park, the Hoolie Golf Tournament, Trunk or Treat, Hay Bale Trail, Tour of Homes, Anson Parade of Lights, Miss Merry Christmas Pageant and the Texas Cowboy's Christmas Ball.

BAIRD

Established in 1880, Baird has a rich, colorful history – from cattle trails to railroad tracks to the interstate highway. Historical buildings dot the town and annual events celebrate the past and the present.

The vibrant community is located 20 miles east of Abilene on Interstate 20. Baird, the county seat of Callahan County, has plenty to offer residents, visitors and businesses.

The Baird Independent School District has a Career Technology Education program with a welding academy, as well as a partnership with nearby Clyde that allows students access to medical training through Clyde school district. Baird ISD also implemented dual credit opportunities with Cisco College.

Every year, Baird celebrates the Railhead Festival, including a barbecue cook off, on the third weekend in May, as well as downtown trick or treating in October.

BUFFALO GAP

Just 10 miles south of Abilene, beautiful tree-filled Buffalo Gap boasts an array of restaurants, shopping, a history center, and a state park and lake. Small but charming, Buffalo Gap is perfect for lunch or a long weekend. Numerous vacation rental houses offer a heavenly escape – many loaded with wildlife and convenient access to trails and creeks, and all with spectacular sunrises and sunsets.

Buffalo Gap is home to the famous Perini Ranch Steakhouse with tenderloins favored by Oprah and the Taylor County History Center with a complete historic village to take you back in time. The Old Settlers Reunion Grounds is the perfect place for a family picnic, and the Community Center and Presbyterian Encampment can host all sizes of family reunions.

Community services include Shades of Hope, treating addictions of all kinds for people across the nation, and Camp Able, a therapeutic equine center with a national reputation for helping children with challenges. The state park offers camping, fishing, lake activities, hiking, and an enormous summer swimming pool.

CISCO

Cisco is better known as the “Gateway to the West” for its major interstate and highways reaching from the east to the west coast. Cisco is located on I-20 in Eastland County, just forty-six miles east of Abilene and 105 miles west of the DFW area.

Cisco is rich in history, points of interests and culturally sound. The city is perhaps best known as the location of Conrad N. Hilton’s first hotel. Now a museum, Hilton purchased his first hotel in 1919 after coming to Cisco to buy a bank.

Cisco also offers hiking trails through the zoo and fishing at a man-made swimming pool that was once the world’s largest – not to mention the best kept secret in the state of Texas, Lake Cisco! In downtown Cisco, you will find shops to browse in as well as farm-to-table dining. Enjoy the brewery and the wineries while taking in the streets of Cisco with its cultural murals and historic buildings.

CLYDE

Established in 1881 and incorporated in 1907, Clyde is eight miles east of Abilene in northwestern Callahan County, located on the Callahan Divide between the Brazos and Colorado rivers. Clyde's early beginnings were tied to the Texas and Pacific Railroad. It's said that the city's name came from Robert Clyde's camp for railroad workers, established in 1880.

Clyde is a vibrant community located along Interstate 20. The City of Clyde has invested more than $33 million in infrastructure improvements, modernizing its water system, sewer system, solid waste management and city parks, including new splash pads and rental cabins, RV parks and campsites at Clyde Lake. Clyde is also within 10 miles of the Abilene Regional Airport and 146 miles from the Dallas Fort Worth International Airport and 10 miles from commercial rail access.

The Clyde Independent School District is an accredited school district with an A Superior rating. The City of Clyde and Clyde ISD have entered into an interlocal agreement to construct a $14 million sports park complex. The Hanner Sports Complex, which will be open in June of 2023, consists of two championship baseball fields, a little league field, three championship softball fields, a soccer field, four pickleball courts, four tennis courts, two sand volleyball courts, a playground, splash pad and concession facilities.

Woody's boasts a 22,000-square-foot collection of classic cars and baseball memorabilia with free admission year round. In addition to baseball memorabilia from early players like Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth, the museum showcases automobiles from the early 1900s, the 50s, 60s and 70s.

Robert E. Howard, creator of Conan the Barbarian, lived in Cross Plains, and his family home is now a museum dedicated to his life. Robert E. Howard Days, a festival on the second weekend in June, also honors his life and work and includes a car show, food trucks, craft booths and more.

Visit Cross Plains for Fourth of July fireworks and hotdogs or for the hunter's feed the first Saturday of November. The first Thursday in December, you'll find downtown lit up with Christmas lights, a visit from Santa and a lighted parade contest.

The Cross Plains Independent School District includes 365 students in pre-k through 12th grade, and the district serves as a storefront for the community on Highway 206. The small school setting is made up of one elementary campus housing pre-k through 6th grade and a secondary campus for grades 7-12. The district offers a variety of extracurricular organizations that regularly qualify in regional state and national competition, including as one of the smallest schools competing in 11-man football. Cross Plains ISD was the 2015 Lone Star Cup Champion.

EASTLAND

Whether you're just passing through or a permanent resident, in Eastland, Texas, you will find a community with diversity. You might enjoy a walk around the beautiful downtown square and historical buildings or marvel at the big sky sunsets.

Located about 50 miles east of Abilene, Eastland is known for being the home of Old Rip, a horned toad that, legend tells, emerged alive after being entombed in a cornerstone of the courthouse for 31 years. He toured the nation as a celebrity and was received by President Calvin Coolidge. Eventually, the stress and strain of public adoration was too much, and he later died of pneumonia. Today, visitors to the Eastland courthouse can still find a preserved horned toad, who may or may not be the original Old Rip.

The Historic Connellee Hotel and Civic Center in the heart of downtown Eastland is named for Charles U. Connellee who was known as "The Father of Eastland." The hotel originally opened in 1928 and was acquired by the City of Eastland in 1997. Currently operated by the Eastland Community Foundation, the Connellee Hotel has eight floors and is the tallest and most prominent building in Eastland. Although it no longer accepts overnight accommodations, there are many great features to see, including the historic Roof Garden Ballroom on the eighth floor, which offers elegance and beauty with a spectacular skyline view.

The historic Majestic Theatre was also built by Connellee and featured films and stage shows; Gene Autry and his horse, Champion, made their appearance, and live radio programs were broadcast every Saturday. Currently, the theatre is operated and managed by the Fine Arts Community of Eastland and features current hit films as well as classic films, concerts, conventions, touring stage shows and other events.

Annual community events include Rip's Ribs Cook Off on the second Saturday in April, RipFest on the first Saturday in October, and One Starry Night on the first Saturday in December.

DYESS AIR FORCE BASE

For more than 60 years, the Abilene community and Dyess Air Force Base have formed a unique and special relationship unparalleled in the history of the Air Force.

Committed to Community

For more than 60 years, Abilene has been home to Dyess Air Force Base, and Dyess and the Abilene community have formed a unique relationship unparalleled in the history of the Air Force. Abilene proudly supports the commitment of the men and women of the military and has been recognized for its effort at all levels of command in the Air Force.

Dyess has been home to the B-1B bomber for almost 40 years. More recently, Abilene has seen the arrival of 33 new C-130 J aircraft that are now stationed at the base, making it the largest active-duty C-130 J aircraft base in the U.S. Air Force. Now Dyess Air Force Base is on track to receive the B-21 Raider and host operational flying squadrons, the weapons instructor course squadron and the operational test function.

HISTORY

In 1942, the United States Army Air Forces built Tye Army Air Field, as it was commonly known, on the site of what is now Dyess AFB. On December 18, 1942, the field was opened and named Abilene Army Air Base. The name changed on April 8, 1943 to Abilene Army Airfield. The airfield was initially assigned to Second Air Force, and its mission was to be a flying training center for cadets.

Training continued until 1946. With the end of the war, the base was declared inactive. Although assigned to Continental Air Command, Abilene AAF was classified as an inactive sub-base of Fort Worth Army Airfield and sold to the city of Abilene for $1. It was used as a training facility for the Texas Army National Guard for several years.

Following the outbreak of the Korean crisis, Abilenians called for a military installation. Armed with 1,500 acres and determination, civic leaders besieged Washington, D.C., and Pentagon officials with their request for a military installation. Together with Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and Congressman Omar Burleson, civil leaders persuaded military and civilian officials to bring a military base to Abilene.

The Department of Defense announced in July 1952 Congress had approved the $32,273,000 needed in appropriations for constructing a base in Abilene.

Known as Abilene Air Force Base, the Strategic Air Command base was dedicated in 1956. On Dec. 6 that same year, the base was renamed Dyess Air Force Base in honor of Lt. Col. William Edwin Dyess – a native of Albany, Texas, who was captured by the Japanese on Bataan in April 1942. Dyess escaped a year later and fought with guerilla forces on Mindanao until evacuated by submarine in July 1943. During retraining in the United States, his P-38 Lightning caught fire in flight on December 23, 1943 near Burbank, CA. He refused to bail out over a populated area and died in the crash of his P-38 in a vacant lot.

UNIQUE FEATURES

One of the many unique features of Dyess is its extensive collection of static military aircraft on display. Collectively known as the "Linear Air Park," it contains 30 aircraft from World War II to the present, many of them formerly based at Dyess, and is located along the base's main road, Arnold Blvd. All but one plane has been flown before. Its most recent addition is the first operational B-1B Lancer, known as "The Star of Abilene," which made its final flight in 2003. It can be seen at the front gate to Dyess along with a recently retired C-130 Hercules located on the other side of the road (a tribute to the two main aircraft currently housed at Dyess).

Another unique aspect of Abilene's Air Force base is that Dyess can be fully self-sustainable energy-wise. The base has diesel generators capable of generating 11.25 MW.

DYESS AIR FORCE BASE

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

Almost 70 years ago, the Abilene Chamber of Commerce formed the Military Affairs Committee (MAC). MAC's mission is to maintain and expand the military presence and missions and continue the strong relationship with the military community. MAC is instrumental in ensuring Dyess remains a premier large aircraft installation, modernizing base infrastructure, and supporting more than 5,000 military and civilians in addition to 8,000 family members and retirees.

Prior to 1999, Abilene won the Strategic Air Command and Air Combat Command Community Support Award so often they subsequently retired the awards. In January 1999, the Air Mobility Command and the Abilene MAC co-created the AMC Community Support Award, which is now known as the "Abilene Trophy."

In 2017 and again in 2021, Global Strike Command awarded Abilene the "Barksdale Trophy" for the best community support of a Global Strike Base worldwide, and the greater Abilene area was one of five communities around the country named a 2020 "Great American Defense Community" by American Defense Communities.

MEMORIAL PARK

Dyess is home to a unique memorial park paying tribute to the 79 Dyess airmen and civilian employees who have perished in line-of-duty incidents, and the park won the 2020 Installation and Mission Support Center Honor Award for the United States Air Force best design in the Air Force.

Typically awarded to a military installation, this Air Force award is significant to Abilene due to the fact that it was awarded to the community at-large.

"This memorial is something our community is incredibly proud of," said Gray Bridwell, vice president of military affairs. "This pays tribute to the men and women who have sacrificed it all for our freedoms while reinforcing the commitment our Abilene community has for those who serve our country."

Mitch Wright, an Austin landscape architect, researched and designed the impressive structure that features a large arc-shaped formation that captures sunlight and directs a beam to a granite plaque sitting on a limestone pillar. Each of the plaques honors victims of a fatal crash, and the sun's beam hits the plaque on the anniversary day and time of the tragedy.

The park is located adjacent to the Dyess Museum in the 800 block of Arnold Boulevard, near the intersection of Arnold and Military Drive and is open to the public.

Arts & Entertainment in Abilene

Abilene is the cultural center for West Central Texas. The Abilene Cultural District downtown was one of the first five such districts designated by the Texas Commission on the Arts because of its vibrant arts scene.

STORYBOOK CAPITAL OF AMERICA®

In 2018, Abilene was designated the Storybook Capital of America by the U.S. Trade & Patent Office. Since 2012, the Abilene Cultural Affairs Council has raised and invested more than $3 million to develop this storybook brand and “storybook setting” within the Abilene Cultural District. Key components of this brand include: the annual Children’s Art & Literacy Festival; the Storybook Sculpture Project (the largest collection in the United States); 75 limestone benches with inspirational quotes from storybooks; and the Adamson-Spalding Storybook Garden, home to many of the sculptures and benches. Throughout the year you can visit downtown and see children’s shows inspired by storybooks, tour the National Center for Children’s Illustrated Literature art gallery, download apps to search for the sculptures and give the Cat in the Hat in Everman Park a high five.

Thanks to generous support from the Abilene community, the Abilene Cultural Affairs Council is able to host the Children’s Art & Literacy Festival (CALF) the second weekend of June each year. The CALF continues to grow, and in 2022, CALF’s 10th anniversary year, 5,444 people attended from 172 cities in 17 states. The goal of CALF is to make art and reading exciting for families. The festival is three and half days and celebrates the summer artist on display at the National Center for Children’s Illustrated Literature. It starts with the Storybook Parade, storybook sculpture unveiling and Sketch with the Artist on Thursday night. All day Friday and Saturday, books come to life with dramatic readings, costumed characters and art activities. Performers from all over Texas entertain with marionettes, puppets, balloon sculptures and magic. Strike a chord with the Abilene Philharmonic Instrument Petting Zoo or stroke an animal in the petting zoo.

ARTWALK

The second Thursday night of each month, the streets of downtown Abilene come alive. That's when the monthly mini-festival ArtWalk takes place. Galleries and museums are open late for free. Restaurants, shops and street vendors join in the fun. One month a year ArtWalk goes to the dogs for DogWalk. Another annual favorite is CarWalk, when classic cars and muscle cars of all kinds vroom in to show off. Another month there might be a street dance group performing, fire juggling or a zombie apocalypse imagined with the help of local health officials.

MUSIC

Abilene is in the serious business of growing and supporting the music scene in our city. The Texas Music

Office of the Governor has certified Abilene as a Music-Friendly community and given guidelines and resources to help attract performing artists and grow live music throughout the city.

R&B, country, Tejano, classical music or rock 'n' roll – you can find all kinds of performances here.

Abilene night spots bring in guest performers each week. Special concerts take place regularly at the Abilene Convention Center and the Taylor County Expo Center and have included artists such as Loretta Lynn and the Beach Boys.

The Abilene Philharmonic delivers world-class productions that draw audiences from more than 50 Texas cities each year. Guest artists have included Van Cliburn competition winners and Broadway singers.

The Outlaws & Legends Music Festival brings two days of outdoor concerts in March that showcase big names in the country music genre including Dwight Yoakam, Kris Kristofferson, Lee Ann Womack, Pat Green, Gary P. Nunn and more. Also at The Backporch of Texas, the Tejano Summerfest hosted by La Voz 93.3 FM takes place each June.

Follow the new Abilene Centerstage pages on Facebook and Instagram to stay in tune with the local music scene.

MUSEUMS & THEATRE

Are you looking for a place where you can pick up a paint brush? Or maybe a script with a great role? Or would you rather visit a museum where you can admire the work of others or attend a live performance that moves you? The Abilene arts scene has opportunities to do all these things.

The Grace Museum is known nationally as a true fine arts museum with a special focus on Texas artists. This landmark building houses three museums – art, history and an interactive children’s museum. The Grace hosts arts classes throughout the year with local artists. The National Center for Children’s Illustrated Literature hosts three exhibitions a year by nationally best-selling children’s picture book artists. The NCCIL hosts special workshops and receptions throughout the year. Every Saturday, children can make a free art project. The Center for Contemporary Arts is home to more than 70 artist members, many with working gallery space in the building. Rotating exhibitions showcase work in a variety of media including photography. All three universities in Abilene have award-winning art departments and museums to showcase student, faculty and guest exhibitions.

Touring Broadway shows for all ages stop here. All three universities are home to theatre departments that produce a range of shows, from laugh-out-loud comedies to heart-wrenching drama and catchy musicals. Abilene Community Theatre and Paramount Theatre produce their own shows, bringing together artists from Abilene and the region. There’s also theater for children, and theatre starring local children. In Abilene, your star can shine.

OUTDOOR SCULPTURES

Abilene is home to approximately 40 whimsical, unique and thought-provoking outdoor sculptures. You can see them scattered around the city, from the “The Herd” of metal cows at the Winters Freeway and South 14th Street to Abilene Christian University’s “Jacob’s Dream,” a towering 32.5-foot bronze of four angels descending and ascending a ladder between heaven and earth. Most of the sculptures are downtown. Every other year, the Abilene Cultural Affairs Council brings in new sculptures for the Outdoor Sculpture Exhibition – the longest running program of its kind in Texas. Downtown is also home to the Storybook Sculpture Project, a collection of nearly 40 sculptures of characters that have leapt off the pages of beloved children’s books. Abilene Zoo

When you visit the Abilene Zoo, you won't believe you're still in Abilene. The 16-acre park houses over 800 animals of more than 225 species. Each exhibit you visit is similar to the animals' respective indigenous habitat. Whether you're looking for furry mammals, slinky reptiles, beautiful feathers or lurking water-dwellers, there's something for everybody.

Transport to the savannas of Africa to see ostriches, warthogs, lions, and zebras. If you listen closely you may even hear the laugh or chatter of a hyena. Stop by the Giraffe Safari to feed the tallest mammal on the planet and see first hand how long their tongues actually are. The lush Caribbean Cove is home to beautifully colored macaws, slow-moving sloths, and agile squirrel monkeys. Take a journey to Madagascar and meet animals found exclusively on the island nation like lemurs, the fossa and the tenrec. A hike through Elm Creek Backyard will bring you eye to eye with animals found closer to home: stealthy mountain lions, playful river otters, and the elusive North American porcupine.

Looking for more adventure? Book an Up-Close Tour to experience the animals in a whole new and interactive way.

Feed a giraffe, meet some reptile friends, learn about the giant anteater, or meet the members of the Zoo's Animal Ambassador team. After riding the Zoo Train, don't forget the Kilimanjaro Mining Sluice where aspiring miners can excavate to discover fossils and gemstones to their heart's content.

There are always plenty of new things happening at the zoo. The annual Boo at the Zoo is a fan favorite. This event features six themed zones to make Halloween even more fun and safe. The spectacular Christmas Celebration brings in Santa's reindeer, ice skating, and immersive light displays that make you feel like you're truly walking in a magical winter wonderland. Or check out Wild Days during spring break, featuring one of a kind animal encounters and exclusive interactive shows.

Abilene Zoo offers a benefit-packed membership that grants animal lovers unlimited visits, exclusive discounts, and free members-only events for one year. Abilene's three public library branches open up a world of learning, imagination and literacy for Abilene.

In addition to the obvious – access to a wealth of books, movies, and electronic and audio resources – a free library card with the Abilene Public Library gives you hours of computer usage at any library location, access to books from other libraries across the state and nation, and opportunity for a wide variety of enrichment activities and programs.

Each location has free programs for all ages - from computer classes and STEAM (science, technology, engineering, the arts and math) programs for adults to all the traditional children's programming (story times, craft programs) and some that aren't so traditional – coding and computer skills classes for tweens and teens, as well as STEAM programs and a chess club. There's always something going on at the Abilene Public Library.

Among the other notable offerings, the APL has rooms for studying, larger spaces for public and club meetings, and the Creation Station (maker space), where only your imagination can limit what you can do. Classes and maker-meet-up sessions to help you learn all about the Cricut and 3D printer machines are available when it's convenient for you.

For help with mobile devices such as smartphones, tablets and laptops, the library provides technology enrichment and collaborative help sessions at all three locations. For other computer software or technology issues you need help with, Book-a-Librarian at any location at your convenience for help with word processing, email, social media, and other applications.

Abilene Public Libraries also have free Notary Public services at all three locations, during regular work hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., but often also available during evenings and weekends. And don't forget Free Tax Help at Mockingbird and Main Branches during February through April 13.

A Modern Day Library and More

Construction and renovation is underway in the transformation of a historic school building into the new Abilene Heritage Square, a multipurpose center for learning, making, discovery, building community and innovating and encouraging future businesses.

In addition to a state-of-the-art public library, Abilene Heritage Square will include:

- A renovated 700-seat auditorium suitable for meetings, speakers, recitals, concerts and weddings.
- An exhibit hall for both local and touring exhibits from major museums and galleries.
- Programming space for The Grace Museum, including a new Children's Museum (in addition to the existing Children's Museum).
- The renovated and highly versatile Eagle's Nest gymnasium, which will be able to host events as varied as a school prom, square dance, civic club luncheon, craft show, family reunions, yoga classes, industrial exhibits, or wedding dinners. The facility will include a catering kitchen that allows catering service for up to 400 people seated at tables.
- A coffee shop adjacent to the library that can be accessed outside library operating hours.

- Classrooms for the Stone Owl Scholars, a program in which high school juniors and seniors can learn of constitutional principles and free-market economics while earning the Stone Owl Scholar designation and scholarship. Stone Owl Scholars is a program in partnership with Abilene Heritage Square and the Stone Owl Institute.
- The "Lawn at the Square" suitable for outdoor concerts, festivals, and special events.

Built in 1923, the historic building complex, originally designed by renowned West Texas architect David S. Castle, housed the former Abilene High School/Lincoln Middle School and was deliberately placed near the railroad with a goal of showing those traveling through that Abilene was a city devoted to education. Abilene Heritage Square is a redevelopment to celebrate that history and vision. The historic academic building and 1929 gymnasium will be renovated, while preserving their historic facades. New construction sensitive to the historic structures will be added to the west side of the academic building, creating a contemporary learning center for Abilene.

The $44 million dollar project is expected to be completed in 2024.

Parks & Aquatic Features

The City of Abilene has a well-developed park system with 27 parks totaling 1,002.22 acres and a varied collection of modern facilities. Whether you want to relax, splash, exercise, play or gather with friends, Abilene has an outdoor space to enjoy.

ADVENTURE COVE

2742 S. 9th St.

At Adventure Cove, families enjoy a leisure pool with a zero-depth beach entry, a lazy river, a pair of water slides, a covered patio, and a new bathhouse. The facility has been designed with the future in mind, providing space to add features and expand the lazy river in the future. Adventure Cove's pavilion is available for rent, and the entire facility can be rented during after hours.

CEDAR CREEK WATERWAY

Jog, hike, bike or perhaps even kayak down the three-mile Cedar Creek Waterway beginning on E.S. 11th St. Future plans for the greenbelt stretching from Kirby Lake to Lake Ft. Phantom include ponds with picnic areas, waterfalls and fountains – a landmark oasis running through the center of Abilene.

WATER WONDER

The water feature showcases a beautiful limestone wall behind a thin sheet of cascading water and LED color-changing lights that shine down from above. The water curtain operates with hundreds of nozzles programmed to create dazzling displays of words and shapes. At the base of the sculpture, multi-level limestone stacks bubble up with overflowing water when the water curtain turns off. Together, these features carry on the tradition Vera Minter Park has provided guests since its original opening in 1976.

Sports & Activities

Competitive youth sports leagues offered in Abilene include baseball, basketball, football, hockey, soccer, softball, tennis and volleyball. The Abilene Youth Sports Authority helps organize and promote youth sports, training, camps and clinics.

TENNIS

Abilene's Rose Park Tennis Center features 15 lighted tennis courts with dressing facilities, restrooms, covered bleachers, full line pro shop, and beautiful landscape. The center offers adult and junior USTA league play and tournaments, as well as private and group lessons for all ages with USPTA tennis professionals. The Abilene Country Club also has seven outdoor courts, seven covered courts and two indoor courts with championship lighting covering all courts. Country club members have access to a complete tennis program conducted by a USPTA tennis professional.

GOLF

Abilene boasts five golf courses to accommodate golfers of all levels.

Abilene Country Club Main Course is a par-70 club course dating back to 1920. The course was redesigned in 1993 by George Williams and Garrett Gill, who reconstructed 10 holes. Pro golfers such as Tommy Bolt, Charles Coody, Don Cherry, Mike Standly, and Bob Estes have all spent time here.

Ron Garl and Charles Coody originally built Abilene Country Club Fairway Course in the 1970s. The club was purchased in the late 1990s and has been updated for the more modern game. Fairway is a long, challenging course that hosted the Southwest Classic from 1981 to 1991.

Lytle Creek Golf Links, headed by Abilene resident and Senior PGA player Charles Coody, developed Diamondback Golf Club, an 18-hole daily fee championship golf course. Coody and Williams, Gill and Associates designed the par 71, 7,000-yard course, which opened in November of 1999 and features bent-grass greens and Tifway (419) hybrid Bermuda grass fairways, roughs, and tees.

Maxwell Municipal Golf Course does not overwhelm the average duffer with difficulty. Golfers can generally work their way onto the course at any time, and the greens have the reputation of being in outstanding condition.

Mulligans Sports Bar, Grill & Golf is a lighted par-3 course offering day or night practice and play. The course features bent-grass greens in excellent condition, a driving range for first timers and long-time pros. Lessons, leagues and memberships are available. The bar and grill features live music and karaoke as well as scramble every Monday night to help hone your competitive edge.

HIKING, BIKING & RUNNING

In addition to the hiking trails just south of town at Abilene State Park, there's a hike and bike trail at Lake Kirby Park, and you can jog, hike or bike down the three-mile Cedar Creek Waterway beginning on E.S. 11th St. Future plans for the greenbelt stretching from Kirby Lake to Lake Fort Phantom Hill include ponds with picnic areas, waterfalls and fountains.

Cycling enthusiasts can join the Abilene Bike Club. Members have access to Buck Creek Trails, an off-road trail in the northeast corner of town. The 12 miles of trails accommodate anyone from the beginner off-road rider to expert level. Tour de Gap, a popular family and cycling enthusiast ride in the hills of West Central Texas near Buffalo Gap, takes place annually and is now in its 36th year.

The Abilene Runners Club promotes and encourages a healthy lifestyle by supporting all runners, joggers and walkers. ARC promotes and conducts races, training runs and social gatherings. Several 5Ks, 10Ks and half marathons take place in and around Abilene each year.

HUNTING & FISHING

Hunting and fishing are part of the landscape of activity in West Texas, and Abilene is no exception. Most land for hunting is privately owned and requires a lease or permission, but a handful of public hunting locations can be found within an hour's drive of Abilene. Dove, deer, turkey and quail are popular choices for Abilene hunters. Lake Fort Phantom Hill and Kirby Lake are the two largest Abilene lakes for fishing. Blue catfish, hybrid striped bass, and white crappie provide the most consistent fishing opportunities at Fort Phantom Hill. Largemouth bass can occasionally be good as well. Blue catfish are concentrated off shore at Kirby Lake. High to moderate water levels bring fair to good fishing for catfish, crappie and largemouth bass at Lake Abilene, located in the Abilene State Park.

ABILENE STATE PARK

On the shady banks of Elm Creek, large trees arch overhead and deer and other critters wander by. Just 16 miles southwest of Abilene, the 529.4-acre Abilene State Park has a lake and fishing pond, a historic swimming pool, trails, camping and more.

On land, you can camp, hike, geocache, bird watch or ride bikes. Along with many picnic sites under the trees, the park has a sand volleyball court, horseshoe pit, basketball goal and large open area. Explore the one-mile nature trail, half of which is ADA-compliant. On water, you can swim, fish and boat. The swimming pool is open each summer.

The park includes two group recreation halls. One is perfect for RV groups, as 35 campsites surround the hall. Camping is available in tents or RVs or in a screened shelter. For a bit of adventure, stay in one of the yurts.

Drop a line in Lake Abilene or Buffalo Wallow Pond. The pond is a favorite spot for kids of all ages. Remember, you do not need a license to fish from shore in a state park. Rent a canoe or kayak at headquarters (spring break through November).

WATER SPORTS

Abilene residents and visitors can enjoy paddle boarding, kayaking, sand volleyball, lakeside fire pits and more at Lake Fort Phantom Hill through SUP Abilene. SUP offers private kayak or paddle board lessons, rentals and outdoor event space.

Explore history at Fort Phantom Hill.

Located a short drive north of Abilene, Fort Phantom Hill is one of the most pristine historic sites in Texas. Originally known as the "Post on the Clear Fork of the Brazos," it was one of the second line of forts laid out in the early 1850s to protect the westward-moving frontier of Texas settlement. The fort was occupied by the U.S. Army from 1851 until 1854. Shortly after the army abandoned Fort Phantom Hill, fire destroyed most of the log walls and thatched roofs of the post's buildings. However, much remains of the old fort for visitors to explore, inspect and study, including three original stone buildings (an intact stone powder magazine, a stone guardhouse and an almost-intact commissary or warehouse), more than a dozen stone chimneys, and stone foundations from the original fort. Self-guided tours are free.

WEST TEXAS REHABILITATION CENTER

West Texas Rehabilitation Center provides a wide array of services including outpatient physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, audiology, orthotics, prosthetics, and hospice care.

The West Texas Rehabilitation Center is a private, non-profit 501(c)(3) corporation that was founded in 1953 as a facility to treat children with cerebral palsy.

It began with just one location and one physical therapist treating seventeen patients. Over the years, the organization has grown to meet the needs of the community.

Now West Texas Rehab proudly serves thousands of children and adults in three different locations across West Texas with more than 300 employees.

No other provider in West Texas offers the full complement of outpatient rehabilitation treatment services available at West Texas Rehabilitation Center, and the philosophy of providing quality care regardless of the patient's financial status distinguishes it from other providers of outpatient rehabilitation care.

Each year, West Texas Rehab serves more than 650 patients per day through its Abilene, San Angelo, and Ozona facilities as well as outreach programs throughout the Concho Valley and Big Country.
